STRAIGHT RIVER VICTORY IS WON; TO DIG BY DEC. 1

All Railroads Sign 11th Hour Pact.

Unhinging of the Chicago river from its 18th street, an improvement in the last phase, the straightening of the stream's current in 1926, became a certainty last night. Actual digging will start before Dec. 1.

The project, which involves moving the river bed an eighth of a mile, will permit the extension southward of three loop streets and will also make way for a railway terminal expected to cost close to $400,000,000. Both tasks are set for completion by 1932, the year of Chicago's centennial celebration.

All Railroads Accept Plan.

The last obstacles to the $7,000,000 undertaking were surmounted at 10 o'clock last night when Corporation Counsel Busch announced that all of the seven railroads affected had accepted the straightening ordinance. The deadline for filing acceptances was midnight.

The ordinance, Mr. Busch said, becomes effective immediately, and the next step is the transfer of properties. Engineering plans for the work already prepared and steam shovels, he said, should be biting out the new channel at least a month before the preliminary agreement is signed on Jan. 1. In its last phase, the straightening of the river, the ordinance will be carried out by a three-day rapid fire of conferences, telegrams, and long distance calls.

Shimmon, Busch Get Credit.

Credit for pulling the ordinance through is given largely to two men—Mr. Busch and James Simpson, acting chairman of the citizens' committee which laid the basis for the settlement of the preliminary agreement last spring.

Five hours they kept in touch with the railroad presidents, engineers, and attorneys, several of them in New York. At 3 p. m. a mass of minor details had been ironed out and the situation developed into a debate between the New York Central and the Baltimore and Ohio over track location. Concessions by both roads ended the deadlock two hours later.

Northwestern Demands Cash.

The single reservation in the agreement is the demand of the Northwestern that it receive cash instead of trust certificates when its property is turned over. Mr. Busch did not reveal the city's plan to provide the money, but said it is practically formulated.

Financial machinery set up to handle the project provides that titles to all railroad properties involved be turned over to the Foreman Trust and Savings bank, which will act in the capacity of trustee, pooling the property, and distributing it to the new owners. Payments of cash will be received and distributed by the bank in the same manner. Final values fixed on the land that is to be bought and sold are as follows:

	To be sold	To be bought
Chicago and North	$378,000	$3,139,000
Chicago and South	2,357,000	7,109,000
Chicago and West	600,000	1,856,000
Chicago and Milwaukee	1,401,000	100,000
Chicago and Rock Island	175,000	100,000
Chicago and St. Paul	2,801	2,875,100
Chicago and Union	82,281
Chicago and Wisconsin	152,791
Chicago and Illinois	85,081
Chicago and Indiana	1	1,748,738
Total	$5,915,000	$15,900,000

"Flood" to Help Pay Cost.

More than $5,000,000 "profit," which represents the increased value to the railroad properties due to the straightening river, will be transferred to the city for construction costs. This will meet the total estimated cost of the project, $5,515,512.

According to the engineering plans, the straightening of the river, which will be moving of the Roosevelt road bridge at the south end of the river bed, digging, docking, and filling in the area proceeded northward. The entire improvement, it is predicted, will require between two and three years. City officials believe the project should be turned into the hands of the city by the spring of 1932.

ROUMANIA BEGS BREAD AS QUEEN TOURS IN POMP

Millions Lack Even Crusts to Eat.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

[Copyright: 1926, By The Chicago Tribune.]

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Oct. 10.—On the day when the queen of Roumania enters her palatial suite, with a private deck, aboard the Levathan, the suite originally intended as the imperial suite for former Kaiser Wilhelm, with her retinue of thirty-two persons and trunks enough to fill two Pennsylvania railroad vans, 5,000,000 peasant children in Roumania, asking their mothers for a piece of bread, will be told they cannot have it except on Sunday.

Until quite recently bread was unknown, except as a luxury, to the vast majority of the Roumanian peasant population, which forms eighty-five per cent of the nation. Their main food consists even today of boiled dried corn scraped from the ears, the same as the hops eat raw. Boiled cornmeal, called pulicea, constitutes a notable refinement in diet.

Shoes Scarce than U. S. Autos.

The per capita number of shoes in Roumania is considerably lower than the per capita number of automobiles in the United States. Ninety-nine peasants out of a hundred wear only rough tanned hides laced around their feet. The possessors of factory made boots enjoy the same social prominence in a Roumanian village as the owner of a Rolls-Royce car in a middle west city.

For centuries a virtual slave, Roumania is lower in status than the west European serf, the Roumanian peasant was nominally freed in the nineteenth century, but his condition changed little.

Since the war he has owned land, that is, each peasant is allowed to own four acres under the land reform act, but this is not sufficient to insure a living, as the Roumanians have large families.

Paid 25 Cents a Day.

The peasant is forced by poverty to work for the owners of the huge landed estates who today pay him 25 cents for a fourteen to sixteen hour day in the season, with the enforced Sabbath rest just introduced.

However, at the time of accounting the estate owner usually proves that the peasants owe him money for cornmeal, salt, and so forth. If the peasant gets a small balance on his earnings, the village shopkeeper takes care of that. Hence, there are sanguinary peasant revolts in Roumania every two or three years. These always have to be suppressed by the military.

Always Under Tyranny.

The Roumanian peasant always has been under tyranny. It was not by the large estate owners, it was by the Turks. He has never known what freedom meant, although the Roumanian peasant has handed down the pure Roumanian language, has produced the literature, music, and songs of the country, and has kept a pure race—much more so than the aristocracy.

Nevertheless, 70 per cent of the people are illiterate today. Despite the building of schools since the war, to which the peasants contributed themselves, largely by donation.

Queen Marie's traveling suite includes two masters of the household, two aides-de-camp, ladies in waiting, governesses, tutors for Princess Ileana, maids, valets, dressmakers, pedicurists, masseuse, stenographers, and two or three literary men to entertain her on the ocean trip and assist her in assembling material for a book on America.

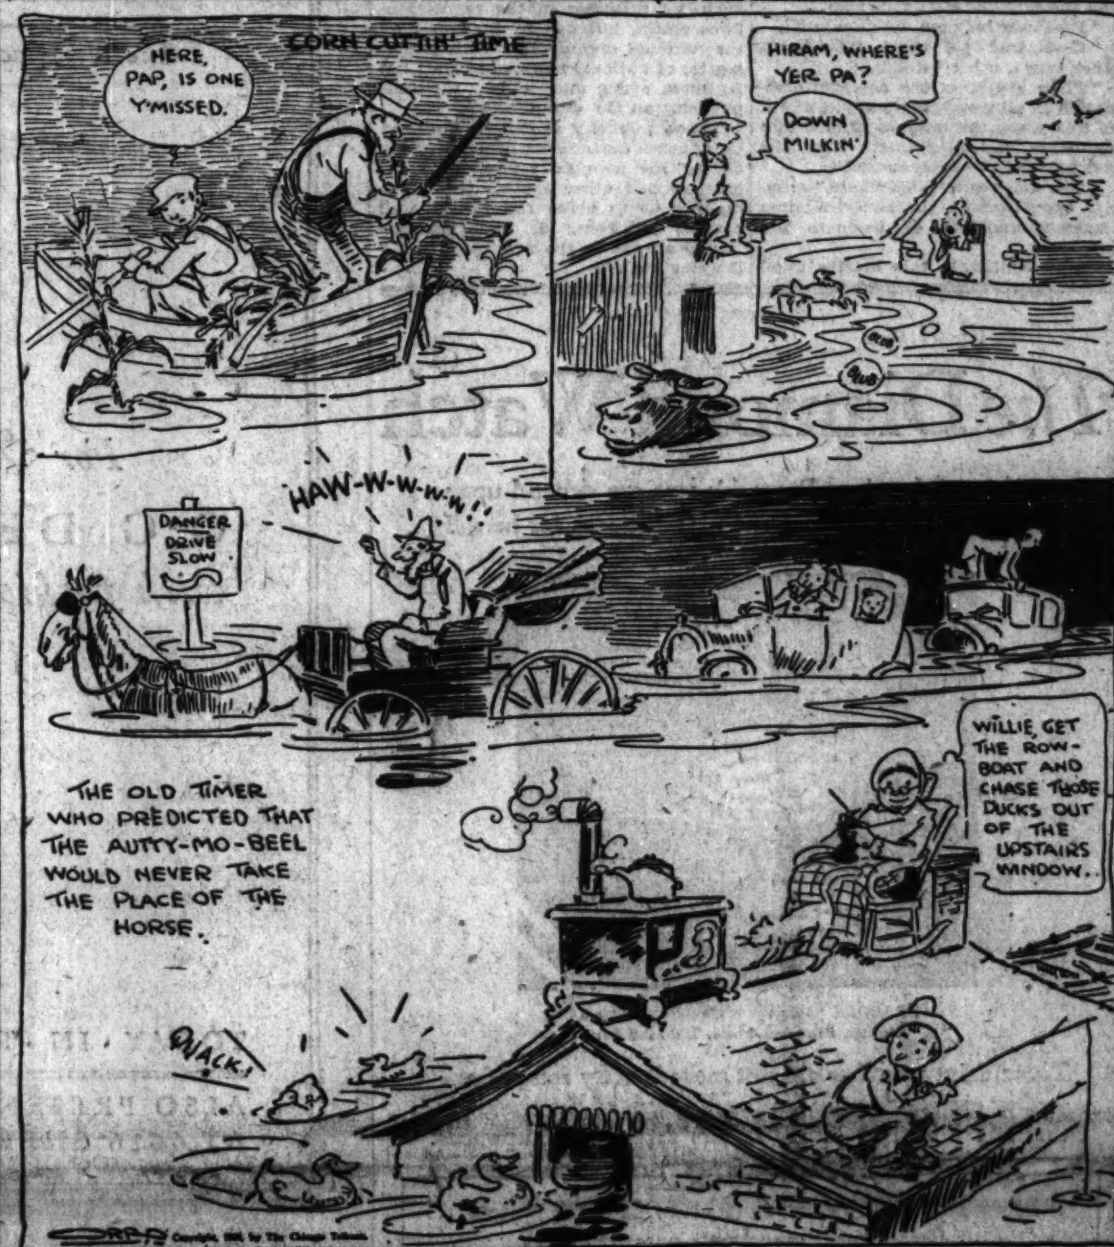

That the Roumanian government fully realizes the incongruity of the luxury of the queen's trip and the poverty ridden condition of the people is proved by the fact that the Roumanian press is not allowed to publish any details of the journey so far.

Queen to Try Corn on Cob.

(Copyright: 1926, By The New York Times.)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Corn on the cob, candied sweet potatoes, and pie will be formally introduced to Queen Marie of Roumania on her voyage to New York aboard the Levathan. The queen wants to make the trip as a "190" when she can eat from the moment she can eat American food, and she has specially asked that pie, and other American dishes be served to her. Many predict she will introduce some American customs and dishes when she returns to Bucharest.

'CONNIE' TALMADGE AND SECOND MATE HAVE SEPARATED, TOO

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—Constance Talmadge, the motion picture star, has left her husband, Capt. Alastair William MacIntosh, to whom she was married in February, it was asserted tonight by friends of Miss Talmadge.

The separation, the friends asserted, is amicable, but permanent, and Miss Talmadge may follow it with a divorce, equally friendly, in the same manner as she divorced her previous husband.

John Fielogin, 39, reasons this time are the same as those which influenced her when she divorced Fielogin. She wishes to pursue her career in the pictures and finds she cannot do so successfully if she is married.

Miss Talmadge herself left the Hotel Ambassador for California. She was accompanied by her sister, Norma, and Norma's husband, Joseph Schenck, the producer. Capt. MacIntosh has not been at the Ambassador for two weeks and could not be located tonight.

There were reports among motion picture people that he was returning to England.

The couple met in Paris four years ago, being introduced by William Rhinelandt Stewart. They were married at the home of Jean De St. Cyr in Burlington, Cal., seven months ago. Capt. MacIntosh was a member of the British flying corps during the war, comes of an old Scottish family and is reputed to have means.

Gen. Lassiter LEAVES PANAMA FOR CHICAGO JOB

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BALBOA, C. Z., Oct. 10.—Maj. Gen. William Lassiter, who has been in command of the Panama Canal department of the United States army, was relieved by Brig. Gen. Charles Martin and sailed for New York at noon today on the steamer Toloa for the completion of a foreign duty tour.

Thirty-seven United States army airplanes escorted the liner from Cristobal harbor.

"After a brief visit to Washington," Gen. Lassiter told The Tribune, "I will tour Europe for four months and then assume command of the Sixth corps area at Chicago, to which I have been ordered."

Jury Deadlock in Daugherty Case a Record

New York, Oct. 10.—[Special.]—The federal jury considering the evidence against former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and former Allen Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, carried its deadlock into the forty-eighth hour tonight.

This broke all federal jury records for the southern district of New York. The jury was locked up for the night because of the illness of one member.

Federal Judge Julian W. Mack, who for twenty-three days had heard the case against Daugherty and Miller, accused of having shared in $331,000 which was paid to expedite the transfer of $7,000,000 worth of stock of the American Property company from the alien property custodian to Swine Inc., was adamant in his refusal to accept a report of disagreement.

Rumor of 11 to 1 for Conviction.

Reports about the courtroom indicated the jury stood 11 to 1 for conviction. One juror, Henry Van Ost, a jeweler, asked Judge Mack to define duress and the extent to which one or more jurors could exercise duress in the jury room.

Van Ost described a hypothetical case and wanted to know if it was right for one or more jurors to enter the jury room after being charged and announce that they had formed an opinion and refuse to listen to the arguments of the other jurors. Mr. Van Ost asked if it was fair for the rest of the jury to hold down the opinions of such a "hold-out," simply by continuing the deliberations indefinitely.

Court Elaborates on Juror's Duty.

Judge Mack answered that no juror should permit anything to guide him except his own conscience after considering the evidence in the case. On that point the juror added:

"No juror has a right to yield his convictions to get away from extended duty. As I stated in my charge, it is the duty of each juror to be open-minded and to remember that his conclusions may be wrong."

Van Ost then wanted to know whether the length of time the jury had been considering the case and the fact that the court would not accept a report of the disagreement was an indication that a verdict must be forced.

Judge Mack replied that the jury was not being kept out in an attempt to coerce any one.

Other questions of jurors were designed to throw further light on the relationship between the late James W. Smith, confidential secretary of Mr.

Woman Killed; Mob Menaces Fleeing Autoist

Pursued by an angry mob after his automobile had struck and killed a woman at Halsted street and North avenue last night, John Rosko, 2330 McGlaskin street, drove the car into a light post at Dayton and Rees streets and fled on foot, leaving in the wreckage a seriously injured 14 year old boy, who was riding with him.

Rosko escaped by running through an alley. An hour later Capt. Thomas Condon of the Hudson avenue station found him, shivering with fear, in a bed at the home of his sister, near Holt and Blackhawk streets. He was taken to the station, where he was questioned as a crowd of several hundred gathered on the street and demanded summary action against him. The mob was dispersed by the police.

Kills Woman; Drives On.

Mrs. Lena Leiman, 40 years old, 1633 Clybourn avenue, was the victim of the speeding car. As she fell under the wheels, Rosko stepped on the accelerator and drove on. The witnesses, some on foot and some in automobiles, followed. Stanley Michael, 1335 Chapin street, his young companion, suffered a broken arm and a possible skull fracture.

Five other deaths yesterday as a result of automobile accidents in Cook county raised the total since Jan. 1 to 859.

Mrs. Rose Hickey, 34 years old, 414 South Wabash avenue, was fatally injured when she was struck at Sheridan road and Hawthorne place by a car driven by an unidentified man. She died at the Lake View hospital. The driver did not stop.

Unidentified Boy Is Victim.

An unidentified boy about 14 years old was killed when he was struck at 50th street and Ashland avenue by a car driven by Stanley Gonaka, 5135 South Carpenter street. The latter was held and the New York police started a search for relatives of the victim, whose body is at the German Deaconess hospital.

Charles Blume, 10 years old, of Palestine, was killed when an automobile in which he was riding with Otto Storm, also of Palestine, skidded into a ditch near Arlington Heights and overturned.

William Colanod, 31 years old, 2410 West Jackson boulevard, died at the Alexian Brothers hospital of injuries which struck and seriously injured Buda Stanich at 90th street and Commercial avenue. She is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

James and Ralph Walker, twins, 33 years old, 3747 North Kimball avenue, were seriously injured when they were struck at Kedzie and Elston avenues by a vampire automobile.

Boy Hit By Cab Dies.

Clemente Drube, 7 years old, 1115 South Morgan street, who was struck by a cab driven by Frank Gilbert, 2235 Indiana avenue, at Sangamon street and Roosevelt road, died at the county hospital.

The South Chicago police are holding Mildred Lakovich, 15 years old of Hobart, Ind., driver of an automobile which struck and seriously injured Buda Stanich at 90th street and Commercial avenue. She is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

James and Ralph Walker, twins, 33 years old, 3747 North Kimball avenue, were seriously injured when they were struck at Kedzie and Elston avenues by a vampire automobile.

Watchmen Shoot It Out; One Is Dead, Other Dying

William Sullivan and Olan Olson, special watchmen for the Consumers' company, quarreled and shot it out early today in front of the coal yard at 7046 South Chicago avenue. When the police arrived Sullivan was dead in the street, and Olson was shot through the chin. At the Jackson Park hospital, where it was said Olson probably would die, he said Sullivan started the shooting.

Ends Life While Wife Talks to Friend in Home

While his wife was entertaining a woman friend in the next room, Walter J. Marston, 54 years old, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head at his home, 213 East 43d place. Mrs. Marston told the police he had been dependent because of his inability to obtain employment as a machinist.

TURN MISSIONS INTO FORTS IN 37 DAY SIEGE

Heavy Shell Fire Forces Americans to Flee.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.)
HANKOW, via Shanghai, Oct. 10.—After being arrested, fired on several times and then nearly shipwrecked in a triple junk collision at dusk on the turbulent Yangtze river, two American correspondents returned to Hankow last night. We visited all the mission institutions outside the Wuchang wall. We also visited the pagoda on the hill from which for thirty-seven days the Cantonese guns shelled the beleaguered city which the Chinese nationalists hoped to proclaim the capital today on the anniversary of the revolution.

The city remains in the hands of the northern troops owing to the sudden failure of the capitulation negotiations.

In Line of Fire.

In the party were A. T. Bullock of Berkeley, Cal.; Burgoyne Chapman, son-in-law of John Leguener of Baltimore, and A. Y. Melvin, Columbia graduate who was on their venture to the Central China Teachers' college from which they were driven a month ago by the Wu-chang dr. The college is a quarter of a mile from the pagoda on the hill and in a direct line with three-quarters of a mile of the Wuchang batteries at the East gate. The college buildings were hit many times by shell and machine gun fire. They also were looted. They are now occupied by the Cantonese.

At the headquarters of the fourth army at the pagoda, whose batteries were silent yesterday, it was said, the Cantonese expected to enter Wuchang today, but night fell with the northern garrison still within. "Evacuation today" is improbable as the eighth army, holding before the north wall and toward the Yangtze, refuses to leave the trenches to permit the garrison of 15,000 to go along the dyke to a point five miles below Wuchang where the capitulation proposals provided for their incorporation into the nationalist army.

Gen. Liu contended his men would be annihilated by the eighth army while passing along the dyke.

Feet Under Arrest.

In the cold and rain of early dusk we visited the barricade of the eighth army before the north gate, finding all the men in position and still firing at the walls, which were manned, but not replying to the fire.

From the teachers' college Mr. Bullock and I went to the Wesleyan buildings, which had been shelled and also occupied.

We had approached within an eighth of a mile of the St. Hilda's Episcopal school when I was arrested. This school also was occupied as a forward position of the fourth army and was badly battered, being right under the walls, heavily garrisoned and filled with machine guns, rifles and catapulting grenades. The school had been abandoned for more than a month.

Shells Battered Church.

After much explaining which finally caused my release we limped three miles over Snake hill, which was closely observed by a machine flying quite low, and in a sampan went mile across Snake lake. Then it was a two mile tramp along the front positions of the eighth army to St. Andrew's Episcopal church, whose pastor, the Rev. Francis Cotter of New York, had been driven out more than a month ago. This church still was occupied. There were eighty-six hits on this church, the most beautiful in China, and built at a cost of $42,000. The machine and field guns recently had been moved to command the dyke from which the besieged garrison hoped to march.

Numerous bullets struck the church property while I stood on the porch observing the men at the Wuchang walls, on whom the Cantonese were firing.

Shield for Troops.

The Tribune correspondent had been invited, with Bishop Gilman, Dr. Wakefield, and other missionaries, to accompany Gen. Liu and his staff on the evacuation as a shield against possible assassination. We left the gate and started along the wall, but on reaching the dock at 6:30 a. m. we received a note that the evacuation had been postponed owing to suspected treachery. So with Mr. Bullock, I began a tour of the missions on the Cantonese lines, which visit convinced us that the eighth army has received no orders to permit the passage of the Wuchang garrison.

PERILS U. S. GUNBOATS

BY JOHN POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 10.—Complications which may prevent the Chinese government from carrying out the contract to construct six river gunboats for the United States navy developed today through the resignation of Rebus Mauchan, chief superintendent of the government's Kiangnan dockyard in Shanghai.

Mr. Mauchan's resignation is understood to be due to the attempt by Chinese militarists to confiscate for military purposes the dockyard funds, which would prevent carrying out the American contract.

The last United States congress appropriated the sum of $4,000,000 for the purpose of constructing a new fleet for the United States patrol on the Yangtze river, replacing the obsolete craft which long has been unsuitable for the protection of American lives and properties in the interior of China.

The United States navy department recently placed a contract with the Kiangnan dockyard here.

The northern militarists, including a former premier, Gen. Sun Chuan-shan, and others, are trying to get possession of the dockyard funds for the purpose of prosecuting war against the Cantonese. The Tribune correspondent's investigation today showed the militarists already have squeezed nearly $1,000,000 out of the dockyard

MRS. FAIRBANK COMES OUT AS BRENNAN BACKER

McBride Indorses Charge of Big Magill Fund.

Although differing with him on the question of the election, Mrs. Fairbank, Illinois women representative on the Democratic National committee, got into the senatorial campaign yesterday in vigorous support of George E. Brennan. Aside from the party question, she said, the Democratic leader and national committee member is better fitted to deal with other problems than his opponents.

Meanwhile the Rev. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, issued a statement supporting the claims of the Rev. George F. Safford, state superintendent of the league, in his controversy with the Rev. Robert O'Brien, backer, with respect to the $400,000 campaign fund for Magill.

Days He Heard $400,000 Estimate.

The Rev. Mr. McBride said he was present when the Rev. Mr. O'Brien tried to induce the Rev. Mr. Safford to withdraw the league's support from Frank L. Smith, Republican nominee, and that O'Brien mentioned the $400,000 figure in reply to a question as to how much money the Magill backers intended to use. O'Brien said he and his associates had found enough holes in the corrupt practices act to get by with an expenditure of that amount and that they could at least beat Smith if they couldn't elect Magill, McBride declared.

At the same time some of the drys became interested in knowing just how the reputed indorsements of Smith by the Anti-Saloon league came about. There has been a meeting of the league board since the primary for the purpose of making indorsements, the fact is not generally known among them, some of the drys say. They want to know if Mr. Safford acted on instructions in indorsing Smith or is merely taking things for granted.

See Home Town Against Magill.

Chairman G. J. Johnson of the Republican state committee and Congressman W. E. Hull of Peoria said a canvass of Princeton and Bureau county, former home of Henry S. Magill, independent candidate for senator, indicates that he will get few votes there. He once represented that district in the state senate. Hull referred to him as the "Rosenwald-Sears-Roadblock-Rockefeller-Brennan candidate."

Fire in Garage Causes Loss Put at $75,000

Cracked wires in the ignition system of an automobile are believed to have started a fire in the Brady garage, 331 West Superior street, early this morning, causing a loss to trucks and building estimated at $75,000. The flames quickly spread to the other automobiles and trucks, twenty-five in number, causing a series of detonations as their gasoline tanks exploded. A portable gasoline tank was removed from the place, one story brick structure preventing an explosion.

Political Notes

The Troop club will officially open its new quarters in the Hotel Sherman tonight at a banquet in the ball room. Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis will be the speaker. All Democratic candidates on the county ticket will be guests.

A dance and entertainment for Aid Francis L. Boutell, Republican nominee for president of the county board, will be held tonight at the Aragon ballroom, Lawrence and Winthrop avenues. The affair is being put on by the 48th Ward Republican organization.

The Chicago district council, Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, has indorsed George E. Brennan for United States senator because of "his courageous stand for modification of the Volstead act." The Greek-American Brennan club and the Scandinavian Brennan club will hold meetings today at Brennan headquarters.

Republican county campaigners, who opened up their big drive with four meetings in widely separated parts of the city last week, followed up with a meeting yesterday at the old 8th regiment armory, where 1,000 colored persons assembled to hear speeches by Capt. Joseph P. Savage, nominee for county judge; George F. Harding, candidate for treasurer, and other candidates.

CHICAGO TO BE TAGGED TODAY FOR CHILDREN

Colors may come and days may go, but for today, at least, the wearing of the green will be the thing in Chicago. For this is the annual tag day of the Chicago Children's Benefit league, and with a goal of $150,000 in view and fifty institutions caring for dependent children to be assisted, every one's aid—and their dimes and dollars—will be needed and welcomed.

This year the permanently star-shaped tags of the league are a gay green shade, and bear the childhood picture of Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal, chairman of publicity and for several years president of the league.

Twenty thousand women and girls, working in shifts of 5,000 each, will be on duty today to receive the contributions of Chicagoans in exchange for the tags.

JUTLAND FASCIST REVOLT AGAINST DENMARK LOOMS

(Chicago Tribune Wire Service) FREDERIKSBURG, Denmark, Oct. 10.—The farmers' opposition to the Danish government is growing in the south Jutland territory, which Denmark regained from Germany after the war. A revolt is feared.

The opposition is the result of the dissatisfaction among the farmers, who borrowed money from Denmark after the peace treaty had given the territory to Denmark. Those loans represented only 45 per cent of the par value of the krone (37 cents) while now the government wants to be repaid at par value.

Cornelius Peterson is one of the farmers agitating for a Fascist south Jutland republic. Farmers from all over Denmark are rallying to the cause. Peterson a few days ago was sentenced to three months in prison for calling the government "a gang of robbers." Today two of his lieutenants were arrested for spreading propaganda in the Danish army, certain sections of which are said to back the Fascist movement.

The farmers plan soon to publish a newspaper to fight the Socialist government, which is primarily interested in assisting unemployed Socialist voters. Owing to the rapid growth of the opposition the government has increased its secret service men in the territory. These are reporting daily from the district, which is where the last two Danish-German wars started.

The Danish papers tonight are convinced that the movement will be a fatal blow at the Socialist government. When the legislature is assembled on Tuesday it will be guarded by the largest police force ever mobilized in Denmark. Open revolts are expected to flare up any time in the regained territory if the present government does not heed the pleas of the farmers.

NEW POLICE-RUM GRAFT SYNDICATE IS BARED BY U. S.

Charge Ring Gives Immu- nity to Liquor Runner.

Existence of a new bootleg police ring by which a rich trade in wine and alcohol is being carried on with immunity, just as the Gennas ran their infamous syndicate, has been discovered by federal agents, it was learned yesterday.

Headquarters for the new syndicate, which is said to have many policemen from the Fillmore and Lawndale districts on a monthly payroll, is in West Roosevelt road, which the federal men say they have known as a rendezvous for west side bootleggers and gamblers. For some time the place, a restaurant and pool hall, has been under the secret surveillance of the government sleuths, and as a result information has been obtained which is expected to give the federal grand jury, beginning its investigation of police graft on Wednesday, another strong wedge in the campaign against alleged police graft.

Police Protected Shipment.
In one known case the syndicate obtained the services of five policemen in protecting the moving of a huge shipment of wine. Other evidence is said to implicate the bluecoats in the acceptance of bribes for permitting the syndicate to maintain large liquor warehouses, shipping stations, truck deliveries and a payoff system with full immunity.

Another important angle of the federal inquiry, it was revealed, is the charge that more than 1,000 seizures of liquor by the police in the last year have been returned to the bootleggers, with their freedom from prosecution, under a system by which the courts are used as weapons by crooked policemen.

When liquor shipments have been seized certain police commanders have filed charges under the state prohibition law, which takes the cases into the Municipal courts. Here they have been permitted to drag along. It is charged, while the defendants are approached with propositions.

Then the cases were brought up, motions to suppress the evidence were made and unopposed, it is charged, with the result that the liquor, trucks, and other equipment were turned back to the defendants, who were discharged for lack of evidence.

Investigation as to the existence of general orders under which this practice is sanctioned is being made by the federal investigators.

Gamblers to Be Questioned.
Members of the gambling fraternity who are known to have employed their ability in the liquor trade to obtain immunity are to be summoned for questioning, it was reported, among the leading gentry of this ilk being the notorious Lovin' Putty Anster, south side gambler and a frequenter of the city hall.

One of the escapades of the west side wine bootleggers operating from the headquarters in Roosevelt road, in which five policemen figured as alcohol guardmen, was investigated by Chief of Police Collins, but nothing came of it.

The government agents have indicated their desire to get at the bottom of this incident. It had to do with a truck load of alky being transferred from a warehouse by Nate Goldberg, a leader in the west side gang.

Five policemen were guarding the shipment, it was charged, when a gang of hijackers led by Jules Portogues, later murdered, stormed down upon the party and seized the liquor.

3 Youths Admit 10 Auto Thefts in Two Weeks

Three youths are in cells at the Oak Park police station awaiting disposition of charges that are expected to be filed against them in connection with the admitted thefts of ten automobiles.

Sergeant William Koerber of the Oak Park police station saw the youths get into a car owned by C. W. Wierich, 121 South Maple avenue, and drive away from his home. The officer gave chase and arrested Edward Siegler, 21 years old, 4561 North Oak Park avenue, Norwood Park; John Prechadko, 22 years old, of 1104 North Mansfield avenue, and Walter Zdanowicz, 18 years old, of Dickson street.

NEW IMPORTATIONS ANNOUNCED

ORIENTAL RUGS AND THEIR USE

(By G. T. Pushman)

Very few people fully realize the large part which rugs play in making a home as one of good taste and in making it a real home. Yet a beautiful rug is often the means of making a room, which would otherwise be colorless and uninviting, a very charming one. One comes into intimate contact with their rugs every day of their life—hence they exercise a far greater influence than people generally realize.

Of all rugs woven, Oriental Rugs—because of their great beauty of design, their warm, rich colorings, and their great durability—are unquestionably the finest. Yet they are surrounded by more mystery and less understood than any other art creations.

For hundreds of years Oriental Rugs have been so universally recognized that many people naturally assume they must be far beyond the reach of their income. Yet nothing could be further from the truth.

True, there are many rare antiques, silk rugs, etc., which are priced well into the thousands. Yet it is also possible to buy good Oriental rugs at very moderate prices.

It is not easy to understand just why a rug which has probably taken a skillful weaver many months to create can be bought for a few hundred dollars. But one must remember that skillful as they are, most of the weavers are very primitive people, living in small tents or huts in remote villages of the Orient. Their needs and desires are few, and they are content if they can earn a few cents per day. Even the little children soon become adept rug weavers. For with these people rug weaving is their only occupation—an art handed down from generation to generation.

And so it is possible to buy good Oriental rugs for only a little more than the cost of machine-made rugs. Perhaps the one feature of Oriental rugs which makes them so admirably suited for floor coverings is their unusually interesting designs and their rare colorings, which harmonize with almost any decorative idea. These colorings are both the delight and despair of the civilized world. For the oriental dyes in their primitive villages have produced colors of a softness and durability that has baffled the skill and learning of the civilized world for many years.

The dyes used are usually produced from either animal or vegetable matters which help preserve the wool and take on a more silky appearance as the rugs are used.

The pure and unquestioned quality of the wool used is another reason for the great durability of oriental rugs. The Persian and Turkish hillides are especially adapted for raising sheep, goats, and camels. And the old-time, hand methods of preparing wool naturally add to its strength and life.

In the selection of Oriental Rugs one should remember that, like everything else, there are many widely varying qualities. For instance, the district of Sultanabad, in central Persia, where the Royal Saruk rugs are woven, has for many hundreds of years been noted for the fine quality of its rugs. Yet in that same district rugs of similar appearance but of lesser quality are also woven, and sometimes sold as Saruks.

Furthermore, the great popularity of oriental rugs has induced some weavers to turn out inferior rugs merely to sell them at low prices. Such rugs are not fair examples of good Oriental Rugs and cannot be expected to give the best service or satisfaction.

And so, unless one is actually a rug expert, the safest plan is to carefully choose the concern from whom they buy—selecting a house which has a reputation of many years of fair dealing, and a concern which they are confident will tell them the exact truth about the rugs and their values.

SOLID COLORED CARPETINGS

So many people who come here to select their Oriental Rugs like to select solid-colored carpetings at the same time. For this reason we maintain a complete department for this work which specializes in the handling and complete laying of various selected qualities of Chenilles, Broadloom Wiltons, and seamed Wilton carpetings.

This service is not only of great benefit to our customers, but in many cases has been the means of saving them considerable in the purchase of plain colored carpets.

Right now we are featuring several grades of Broadloom Wiltons, in all the popular shades, including jade and mottled green, raven, beaver, egg plant and plum, at $7.50, $10 and $12.50 a square yard. The $12.50 grade is a particularly fine imported carpeting obtainable in widths up to 18 feet.

For we are always glad to forward rugs to any responsible person so they may make their selections in their own homes.

If interested in Oriental Rugs, let us know your wishes regarding color and size and we will advise you regarding prices and, if you wish, forward rugs for your approval.

Figure the long life of Oriental Rugs, their great beauty and charm, and you will realize they actually are the least expensive floor coverings that can be bought.

Because of These Policies—Followed for 41 Years

1. To handle only rugs which we know are good and which we are willing and glad to recommend.
2. To tell the strict and unvarnished truth about the quality and condition of every rug we sell.
3. To mark the price of every rug, in plain figures, and sell to everyone at the same price.

You Can Buy Oriental Rugs with Confidence at Pushman's

AN EVENT OF UNUSUAL IMPORTANCE TO CHICAGO

From the innermost parts of Persia, from Turkey, Anatolia and China, donkey and camel caravans laden with beautiful rugs have for months been wending their way through the desert sands to the sea-ports of the ancient world. There these beautiful pieces of hand-craftsmanship were packed in bales and forwarded to America—to Chicago—to Pushman's.

These are no mere pieces of merchandise. Rather are they labors of love, woven with infinite care by skilled workers, often for the adornment of palaces of their rulers. Many of them are the work of years—the least of them represent many days of patient handicraft.

RUGS OF EVERY SIZE—AND COLOR—AND DESIGN

Beautiful rugs of silk—the possession of even one of which might well make even the most blasé collector happy. Wonderful Kashans and Saruks, with their interesting Persian designs woven in shades of blue as rich as the midnight skies, in hues of rose and mulberry taken from the mellowing sunsets, in the gold copied from a young girl's hair.

Lilahans, Hamadans, Mousls, Irans—from the innermost parts of Persia. Beautiful carpets from Turkey and Bagdad; From Beluchistan those beautiful silk-like pieces in wondrous shades of red and blue, which strangely are priced only a bit more than machine-made domestic rugs.

And from China those luxuriously thick rugs in all the lustrous tones of blue, rose, gold and green in quaint designs which distinguish these rugs and make them so desirable.

Actually—here is a bit of the Orient, with all its mystic charm, transported to the heart of Chicago. Here is no mere store, but a magic mart where one may at their leisure see, enjoy, inspect and select the choicest products from the hand looms of the Orient.

also are the real masterpieces—full sized rugs for the largest rooms—priced as much as $5000 and more.

But each one of them, no matter what its price is a good rug, a rug selected by men who know them thoroughly and are competent to accurately judge their values. From this vast assemblage one could choose blindly. For each one is a rug which Pushman's are proud to sell and glad to guarantee.

Unusual Values in "Fill in" Sizes Persian Rugs

Try the effect of one or more of these rugs in a room which doesn't quite meet your idea of charm. You'll be surprised how much they will do for it. Due to very large importations this Fall the prices of all these pieces are very low, considering quality.

Belouchistans

The most popular of all the moderately priced Oriental rugs, in beautiful deep shades of blue, red and ivory.

2.6 to 3 ft. wide by 4 to 5 ft. long. $20 to $30

Lilahans

Persian in design, in coloring, and in workmanship. A quality which we consider the best "buy" obtainable. Deep blues, rose, mulberry, and ivory backgrounds with very interesting Persian designs.

2.4 to 2.6 by 4 to 5 ft., $28 to $35

5x3 ft., $55 7x5, $135 to $165

Irans

Iran means Persia, and these beautiful rugs with their interesting designs and warm, mellowed colorings are unusually large rugs for the money.

3 to 3.6 wide by 6 to 7 ft. long, $55 to $75

Saruks

Ranking with Kermans as the finest of all Oriental rugs these are rugs of which any one might well be proud. For many years we have imported very large quantities of Saruks, resulting in buying opportunities which are reflected in lower prices.

2x3 ft., $30 to $40 5x3 ft., $110 to $150

7x4 ft., $135 to $250

MRS. STILLMAN TELLS WHY SHE D.K.'S SON'S LOVE

Defends Youth of Today;
Parents to Blame.

Copyright, 1926, by The News, New York.
Grand Mere, Que., Oct. 10.—Following the exclusive announcement of her son's engagement to a backwoods girl, a romance that has thrilled the titled members of New York society, Mrs. James A. Stillman, wife of the New York banker, today gave her views on much berated youth.

gilded substitutes of fashionable society.

Mrs. Stillman approved her choice because, she said, their romance was not based on a love balanced by expensive motor cars, fine clothes and other luxuries, but on the essentials that make for lasting happiness.

A friend of the Stillmans, commenting on the fine relationship that exists between Mrs. Stillman and her children, said:

"Wherever Mrs. Stillman is, there you will find the children." During the bitter legal fight waged between Mr. Stillman and herself and since the famous reconciliation of the couple last February, the children have rallied around their mother.

It would be difficult to find anywhere outside the Stillman family a greater friendship and understanding between children and their mother.

Parents Should Blame Selves.

"When children disappoint their parents, the parents should blame themselves; not put the blame on the children," Mrs. Stillman said. "The air is filled with complaints of parents, and censures for their children. Why don't the parents do something about it?"

"I am not one of those who complain of youth today. I like youth. Youth to my mind is more interesting than the old. Their path, untrod, unknown, lies before them. I think I understand youth. I think youth understands me.

"My children are never rude to me. They just are not, because they were not brought up to be rude to me, and they were not brought up to be rude to others. I would not permit it. But you must do something to demand their respect."

Has Not Spoiled Children.

"I have tried not to spoil my children by giving up everything to them. I think parents make a great mistake when they give up everything for their children. The children should be willing to accept some of the sacrifices where sacrifices must be made.

"For example, if the question arises as to who is going to use the car for the afternoon, I use it and let the children get about as best they can. This teaches them self reliance.

"Many parents sacrifice everything, their comfort, their wealth, even their health in the interest of the children, only to find often that such sacrifices are scarcely thought of as sacrifices at all. Ingratitude is the answer often to easy going parents."

Referring to the much criticized flapper, Mrs. Stillman said philosophically, "Well, if they are lacking in serious interest they will soon cease to flap. Like many of our grownups, there is no doubt that some of our so-called flappers believe their glory is reflected in the number of pretty gowns they can manage, the number of beaux they can attract, and the number of invitations they can command."

"I brought this lesson home to one of my sons recently. When he came here to Grand Anne at the close of school he talked of nothing but the cars and the boats on the place, or how he had learned to swim and do a certain stroke."

Teaches Children Value of Money.

"Thousands of people," I pointed out to him, "own motor cars and boats, and any one who has the money may take swimming lessons and learn to do the crawl stroke. Do you mean to say that that is all there is to your personality? A personality reflected only in cars and boats and swimming lessons and golf?" I asked him.

"My question amazed him. 'Why, mother,' he said, 'I never thought of myself in this light before.'

"From the time they were able to count, I have taught my children the value of money. I have taught them economy."

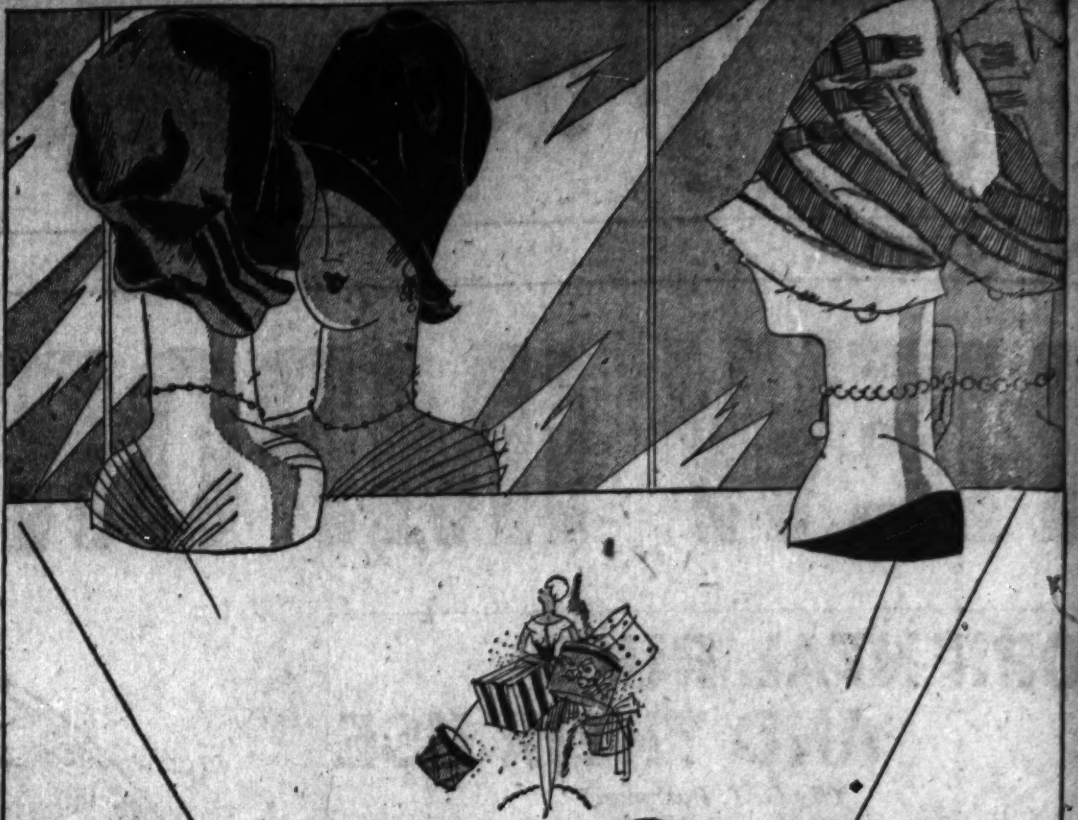

EX-FIRE FIGHTERS PAY TRIBUTE TO VETERANS OF '71

One hundred members of the Retired Firemen's Association of Chicago met in the Great Northern hotel yesterday to honor eleven of their number, the only surviving veterans of the great Chicago fire of 1871. Three of the eleven were unable to be present on account of illness, and flowers and greetings were sent to them.

Those honored are Isaac M. Adler, 85 years old, 7819 Paxton avenue; Thomas J. Carty, 82, of 1149 West Madison street; James Duff, 79, Danville, Ill.; Frederick W. Gund, 77, of 4923 North Winchester avenue; George Leady, 81, of 2554 La Salle street; Joseph C. Patten, 85, Elmhurst; Alfred W. Pendleton, 84, of 3713 North Crawford avenue; Charles Schroeder, 80, of 2144 Bissell street; George Stegengel, 84, of 5410 Dakin street; Lawrence Walsh, 86, South Bend, Ind.; and Nicholas Weinand, 81, of 1824 Larrabee street. Duff, Pendleton, and Weinand were the ones unable to be present.

Fire Chief A. R. Seyferlich joined the others in short talks in which past and present methods of fire fighting were compared.

Good Gifts from all over the World are waiting here for you at Ovington's

HAVE you, as yet, had a moment to spare for a visit to Ovington's? Have you, as yet, seen the amazing variety of the thousand good gifts assembled on its first floor? And lured by them, have you explored the resources of the five floors above? If you have not been to Ovington's, it is a pleasure you should not long deny yourself!

This new shop has quickly endeared itself to the heart of Chicago—for it provides under one roof a solution to every gift problem which could present itself—an ever present aid to the hostess who demands distinctive and lovely things in china and crystal—in silver and plate—in lamps, mirrors and hostess furniture.

Good Gifts for Fall Brides!

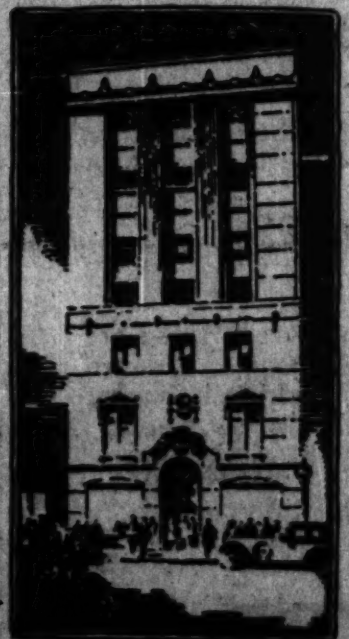

WHEN next a wedding bid greets you in the morning mail, make that your chance to visit Ovington's. Just come to our very first floor. With every step your eyes will behold a score of good gifts—and the task of finding a gift will be changed to the task of selecting one among so many happy suggestions.

The special tables on which gifts are ranked by price make simple the task of selection. One table holds many charming things for as little as five dollars. Others at ten, fifteen and twenty-five. And others still at prices in between.

Helps for the Hostess

BUT if you know only the first floor, what other delights you have in prospect. For the China and Crystal Shops are full to overflowing with the most magnificent displays that hostess ever gazed upon.

China by the great potters of all the world. The most famous names—the most beautiful patterns. Place plates in glorious array—china services by the score. Breakfast sets—tea sets—salad bowls in great profusion—crystal to measure up to the beauty of the china—silver to be in rapport with both!

Just north of Lake Street, on the Boulevard, stands the newest of Chicago's smart shops—its floor crisscrossed with the most beautiful collection of good gifts to be found in the world.

Lovely Lamps, Mirrors and Furniture

ON the fifth floor is a rare array of lovely lamps, lamps like our gifts, gathered from all over the world. Mirrors too, and furniture—little odd pieces to tuck in a corner, the little bits of hostess furniture which lend such an air to a room.

To recount all the things of Ovington's, there is not space. To know them you must come yourself! And when you do come you will see that the prices are the prices of fairness and good sense.

Trap the Dirt

Fifty thousand of the world's greatest buildings and industrial plants use WEAR-PROOF MATS, and will use no other. Why? Because they trap the dirt and keep it from spreading—they are sure-footed, safe and sanitary—and "They Never Wear Out."

Put WEAR-PROOF MATS in your building or factory and they will end your mat troubles and mat expense forever. You will find them the strongest, most durable, everlasting mat you have ever used on your floors, halls, stairs or aisles. Made in links of steel and asphalt impregnated wool felt, they cannot warp, buckle or slip—they lay flat and stay flat—roll up like a rug—and "Never Wear Out."

Our new WEAR-PROOF Book shows how WEAR-PROOF MATS are made and the hundred and one places where they can be used to advantage in any building or factory. If you want to cut out all future mat expense and get everlasting mat service and satisfaction—write for this book. We will gladly mail it free and postpaid on request.

THE STATE STREET ILLUMINATION FESTIVAL

begins Thursday evening

STATE STREET, from Lake to Van Buren, on Thursday of this week will inaugurate a blaze of light that will remain a nightly feature of this famous street. It is said by the engineers of The General Electric Company and The Commonwealth Edison Company, who are supervising this installation, that the illumination will be far more brilliant than that of any other street in the world.

For three evenings—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—there will be a festival, with elaborate special decorations; arches and towers of jewels illuminated by forty search lights; bands of music; floats depicting the history of lighting. The whole public is most cordially invited to attend.

This is not STATE STREET'S first entrance into the limelight of eminence. Since those days when Chicago outgrew its village size it has been the retail center—a commercial glory of the city. Today it is acknowledged to be the greatest shopping district in the world.

Here, in concentrated space, to be gathered the fashion, fabrics and finery and the furnishings of the globe. Here, within a few blocks, are grouped many of the country's largest stores. Here, the metropolis pours its millions to view the daily panorama of merchandise.

The new illumination will shed a greater luster on an already illustrious thoroughfare. We pride ourselves on the contribution Marshall Field & Company has made to STATE STREET'S renown.

SUMPTUOUS FURS TO BE WORN DURING THE FORMAL WINTER SEASON

A luxurious evening wrap of white ermine is bordered with a full ruffle of white ermine and inserts of cocoa dyed ermine. It is lined in cocoa panne velvet, banded with gold. Imported from Paris.

An unusual combination of fur distinguishes this magnificent cape. The expertly matched pelts of chinchilla blend perfectly with the tones of the beautifully marked Prince Edward Island silver fox.

From Paris, and cut by a masterly French designer, comes a most unusual coat of natural Japanese marten. The color, which is particularly striking, is a golden yellow, faintly tinting into brown.

Laces and Chiffons Achieve New Brilliance

Straight from Paris comes the vogue for these new glistening chiffons, and colorful laces. Flounces and edgings of Point de Alencon and Clre lace; chiffons, shimmering with paillettes, rhinestones, or metal embroidery, these are only a few of the lovely things—just arrived in the Lace Sections.

Frock Pattern of Georgette and Metal Thread
These dainty semi-made pattern frocks require only a slip to complete them. In flesh, Chanel red, black, embroidered in metal thread, applied in harmonizing colors, $27.50.

Laces, First and Second Floor, South, State

New from Paris!

Twisted strands of tiny beads around your neck and at one side a huge tulle bow! That's the new, delightfully feminine bit of neckwear that is sponsored by Lanvin. In evening shades as well as black and white.

A New Sports Coat

From The "Marfield" Room

A smart version of the sport coat is this new "Marfield" Coat of imported lustrous material lined in kashine. Four snug pockets, belt, and standing shawl collar of caracul, trimmer or nutria make it one of the most attractive of the many new Coats in the Sports Apparel Section. In gray, walnut, natural, $125.

Sixth Floor, South, State

Just Arrived from Vienna Velours Nacre and Two Color Soleil Velours

The vogue for two-tones reaches its peak in these new hats of beautiful imported velours! In some of them the two colors are used quite independently, while in others the lighter shade deftly underlies the darker. Pictured is a model in soft brown and tan. These velours, in many interesting colors, will be custom tailored on the head.

Broadcloth Twill And Kolinsky In a New Coat

—a combination of very great elegance! This new fabric combines the luster and finish of broadcloth with a fine twill weave. The double collar and deep cuffs of the coat are of Kolinsky. The tiered back shows one of the newest and most important features of the new mode. It is one of the loveliest of the new Coats now in this section. There is a wide choice of beautiful fabrics, both imported and domestic, richly furred.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North, State

The New Shawls Are Bright with Metal, Embroidery or Painting

Shawls have a loveliness quite their own—an elegance and leisureliness belonging to evening. And the new ones are more and more beautiful. There are the great squares of lame cloth with their glimmer of silver or gold, circular shawls of heavy crepe with hand embroidery in stunning designs, or georgette shawls and some of them, painted by hand, have great flower clusters on them and are finished with long, softly falling silk fringe.

Shawls, Sixth Floor, Middle, State

Replicas of Paris Models

These are only two of a very lovely collection of reproductions of models in the French Room. Other collections in this room includes especially smart models in velvet for day and evening wear.

After Lelong, at right, of fine French rep in pointed tier effect. Cuffs and revers collar of white ermine, in myrtle, slate blue, navy, brown, black, $125.

After Patou, extreme right, of frost crepe, flounced skirt with upward trend at the waist in front. In vintell, sable, rondac blue, kern and black, $85.

Exclusive with Us! Silk Kid Aristos In the New Pearl Pastels

Imported Silk Kid makes these smart Aristo Slippers, so dainty and lustrous, yet so durable. A new finish worked thoroughly into the kid grain takes away none of their soft silkiness, and yet preserves them against scuffing. The colors are exquisite, pearl pastels, the French call them, and the design and make are exclusively Aristo. Silk Kid also in the daytime colorings, $32.50.

Aberdonian: "Na, na, I'm moving!"

IF SHAKESPEARE were alive today, he would be writing novels, and they would undoubtedly be published first as serials—just as all the works of Dickens were, and of Thackeray, Hardy, Tolstoy. Even the rhymed novels of Byron were published in installments.

Aside from the form he adopted,

Shakespeare really wrote long and short stories of adventure on land and sea, historical novels, treasure-island fables, fairy-tales, ghost-stories, love-romances.

His fascinating Prince Hal, his execrable Richard III, his Bardolph, Pistol and Falstaff never actually lived as he makes them. They lived but a little while at all in their flesh. In his fiction they live forever.

You will never lose touch with the life of the day if you keep in touch with the Drama of Fiction—and of Fact presented in

OHIO CANDIDATES TURN TO ILLINOIS FOR ARGUMENTS

Smith Fund and Waterway Used to Bait Votes.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—[Special.]—
What with the Frank Smith campaign fund scandal and the diversion of lake water through the Chicago sanitary canal, Illinois is furnishing subjects for most of the campaign oratory developed so far in the senatorial contest in Ohio.

Former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democratic candidate for the senate, is baiting his Republican opponent, Senator Frank B. Willis, daily on the stump in regard to his vote to meet Newberry and his prospective action on Smith if the Illinois candidate should be elected.

Mr. Pomerene, when in the senate four years ago, took a prominent part in the investigation against Newberry, and in his arraignment for expending $190,000 in campaign for the Republican nomination for senator.

The Shadow of Newberry.

Senator Willis was the author of the amendment to the resolution to seat Newberry, which condemned the Michigan senator for the expenditure of so large an amount, but without unseating him.

The Willis amendment was regarded at the time as furnishing a neat escape for the Republicans from an embarrassing situation, but it proved unavailing in the long run, however, for within a few months so many pro-Newberry senators had been replaced by anti-Newberry senators that Newberry was compelled to resign in order to avert a reopening of the case and a certain unseating.

Twitting Willis on these circumstances, Pomerene wants his rival to tell the Ohio voters what scheme he has up his sleeve to save the face of the G. O. P. if Frank Smith presents himself in the senate along with Vare of Pennsylvania.

Utilizes Insull Contribution.

Pomerene dwells on the case of Smith, particularly because of the scandal attaching to his campaign fund, almost all of which was supplied by Samuel Insull and other public utility magnates whose properties are subject to regulation by the Illinois commerce commission, of which Smith at the time was chairman.

The Republican managers have countered by digging up a speech by Pomerene on the campaign expenditures of the late Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, in which Pomerene said that a large expenditure does not establish corruption.

The Chicago lake water diversion is one of Willis' pet talking points. From the ore docks of Toledo to the Buckeye bottoms of the Muskingum, from the thickets of the Miami, he is depicting the heinousness of the "Chicago water steal," accompanied by reminders of the necessity of keeping him in the senate if Ohio would thwart the draining of the lower lakes to create a waterway from Chicago to the gulf of Mexico in the guise of a Chicago sanitation system.

It is too early for even a guess on the outcome of the contest. It is not unlikely that Willis has the edge on Pomerene at this writing. Willis, who has been a paid orator for the Anti-Saloon league, will get the votes of most of the dyes and with Ohio rated a dry state politically by both parties, this will be a tremendous advantage.

The women are strong for Willis, who is a prohibition and equal suffrage protagonist, while Pomerene voted against both amendments.

Pomerene will get the votes of a large percentage of wet Republicans and of Republican business men with whom he always has been a favorite.

MEXICO SET FOR DRIVE TO SMASH YAQUIS' REVOLT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mexico City, Oct. 10.—Gen. Joaquin Amaro, minister of war, will formally open a campaign against the Yaqui Indians this week, according to a semi-official statement. Gen. Amaro leaves tomorrow for Guaymas to inspect the war preparations and consult with Gen. Francisco Manzo, commander of the campaign against the Yaquis. From official sources it is learned definitely that Gen. Obregon will not command the army to be sent against the Yaquis. Gen. Amaro will remain several weeks with the army in Sonora.

The war department denies reports of conflicts with the Yaquis except during the first few days after the Indians held up Gen. Obregon's train. The Yaquis apparently are holding the borders of Yaquiland and are ready to repulse attacks by the Mexican army. They are not attempting to take the offensive.

Gen. Manzo reports from Guaymas that the negotiations for peace with the Yaquis have broken down, especially those carried on through Gen. Morf. Gen. Manzo.

JEWES RAISE GOAL OF CHARITY DRIVE TO $25,000,000

$15,000,000 Sought 1st
Is Already Pledged.

By a unanimous vote the national conference of leaders in the united Jewish campaign yesterday adopted the suggestion of David A. Brown of Detroit, national chairman, to raise the goal of the campaign from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000. The step was taken at the close of a two day meeting at the standard club. More than 500 representative Jews from all parts of the country were present.

Joseph C. Hyman, executive secretary of the campaign, announced that a total of pledges already made in $15,411,310, and that drives scheduled for the next three months in 500 communities should bring in the remaining $10,000,000 before the end of the year.

Dever on New Committee.
Organization of a committee comprising some of the most prominent men in America to conduct an appeal for funds among non-Jewish elements for European Jewish relief was announced in a message from Bishop S. Parkes Cadman and Judge Victor J. Dowling of New York.

Included in the list of committee members are Mayor Dever of Chicago, James Walker of New York, Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, Mrs. E. R. Field of Chicago, Dr. David Starr Jordan of California, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and the Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago. Dr. Bernard Kahn of Berlin, European director of the joint distribution, was the guest of Julius Rosenwald for his report. Dr. Kahn merits the gratitude of every Jew in America for his work, Mr. Rosenwald said.

Ad 35,000 Families in 1926.
From January to September of this year, this report detailed, more than 15,000 families have been helped by small loans without interest; $25,000 has been expended for feeding unemployed working men and 11,000 workers a month have been supported in 41 towns. Dr. Kahn said that $52,000 was expended to feed school children, 25,000 of school age benefit from this philanthropy.

Since March $160,000 has been devoted to child welfare work, 15,000 orphans having been cared for each month while summer colonies were established for 1,500 children, and summer day homes founded for 2,750.

FATHER ARRIVES TO HUNT MISSING N. U. FRESHMAN

A. Welner, father of Joseph, 18 year old Northwestern university freshman who disappeared last Thursday, came to Chicago yesterday from his home in Michigan City, Ind., to aid in the search for the youth. Police and university authorities have failed to find a trace of him. The boy returned to his rooming house at 1628 Fargo avenue last Thursday, in a dazed condition, and told his landlady, Mrs. Louis Rudels, that he had been struck by an automobile, she said. He went back to school, however, and again returned to his room in the afternoon, where, while Mrs. Rudels was away, he wrote a note saying he had gone for a walk. He has not been seen since then.

CODE OF ETHICS FORMED TO GUIDE ILLINOIS BANKS

Increase of "Unofficial" Houses Brings Action.

A code of ethics has been drafted by the Illinois Bankers' association. It was announced yesterday, which is designed to distinguish the association members from "unofficial banks," which are being opened in large numbers throughout the state. Copies of the code will be displayed prominently in banks and will, according to the announcement, serve as a written guarantee of each institution's fidelity and responsibility.

A bond of confidence between the banks and their customers will thus be established, it is planned, which will protect the public from institutions that are not subject to official control.

Plan to Punish Violators.
At the same time a grievance committee, the personnel of which has been kept secret, was organized and instructed to investigate any complaints against individual banks charged with violating the code. Violations, the announcement says, will be punished by publicity and possible expulsion from the association.

Eight Points in Code.
Eight provisions are listed in the code, including conduct on a basis of

51 BANKS CLOSED IN AUGUST; DEPOSITS TOTAL $11,902,000

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Fifty-one banks with deposits of $11,902,000 were closed on account of financial difficulties in August, the federal reserve board announced today. These totals are considerably smaller than those reported for July, when 128 banks with deposits of $23,164,000 were closed, but were in comparison with 14 banks having deposits of $1,837,000, reported closed in August, 1925.

More than one-half of the suspensions in August were in the Minneapolis district where 23 banks closed as against 16 in July. In the Atlanta district, where there were 37 suspensions in July, only five banks were reported closed in August. Twenty banks which previously had been closed resumed operations during the month—one in the Philadelphia district, eleven in the Atlanta district, one in the Chicago district, and seven in the Minneapolis district.

During the first three weeks of September five national banks and 21 non-member state banks—a total of 26 banks with deposits of $7,458,000—were reported closed; 15 banks which previously had been closed were reopened—six each in Georgia and Florida, and three in South Dakota.

PENSACOLA WIND 128 MILES HOUR, NAVY MEN REPORT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Detailed reports on hurricane damage at the navy's pioneer air station, Pensacola, Fla., show that 47 of the 230 planes at the station were destroyed, eight buildings wrecked beyond repair, and runways, railway tracks, and piers badly damaged. The wind rose to 128 miles an hour and was accompanied by an inundation, the tide sweeping 8.54 feet by the main high level.

The preliminary estimate of damage was $1,000,000 and Lieut. Com. R. H. Gifford, civil engineer corps, has been ordered to the station to estimate appropriations necessary to restore and protect the station.
Most of the planes destroyed were of an obsolete type. Damage to other aircraft which can be repaired has not been estimated.

"—Addition of milk to Bread."

Dr. Herman Bundesen,
the Health Commissioner says:—

"The addition of milk to bread, not only increases its nutritive value, but makes it more appetizing. The use of pure, sweet milk, instead of water, or part water in mixing dough, is now the practice of the better class of public bakeries."

SALTIS PLOT IS SEEN IN RAIDS ON M'DONALD FILES

Hunting State's Evidence, Prosecutor Believes.

Attempts to obtain the evidence upon which the state hopes to hang Joe Saltis are believed by the prosecution to be behind the raiding on two occasions of a steel filing cabinet in the office of Special State's Attorney Charles A. McDonald.

Twice in the past week the cabinet has been opened at night, the prosecutor reported, and he expressed the opinion that the work was done by agents of Saltis, who is on trial before Judge Harry B. Miller charged with the beer war killing of John [Mittler] Foley.

Seek Complete Jury Today.
Efforts are to be made to complete selection of the jury today, Judge Miller having indicated that he would take summary action against any prospective jurors who offered false excuses to evade jury service. Eight of the jury of twelve have been chosen. Prosecutor McDonald's office is in the county building, room 1136, and it is believed the intruder gained access by crawling along a ledge on the outside of the building past a window in the office. The ledge can be reached from the windows of an adjoining courtroom.

Records Kept in Vault.
Nothing of value in the Saltis prosecution was kept in the filing case, all the records of that case being kept safely in the vault of Deputy Superintendent of Police Matthew Zimmer. Vote fraud records, the proof of all the ballot knavery committed during the primaries, are also kept in the police vault.

ROB ON TUESDAY; FACE CELLS IN PRISON TONIGHT

Aftering an example of speedy justice in Wisconsin, two men who robbed a Kenosha bank of more than $11,000 last Tuesday, will, according to present plans, be on their way to the state penitentiary at Waupun tonight.

On Wednesday, one day after the robbery, Kenosha police received information which led to the arrest of one of the robbers the next day. And on Friday the second robber was arrested.

Reported to Have Confessed.

Both men, according to authorities, made complete admissions after a portion of the loot had been found in the home of each of the defendants. Leo Draves, 33 years old, and Carlos Justeson, 28, both of Racine, Wis., were arraigned and their bonds placed at $10,000 each. Today they are to appear for hearing and, it is said, are prepared to plead guilty. In that event they will be taken to the penitentiary tonight. Under Wisconsin law, they may be sentenced to serve from three to thirty years.

Bandits' Loot $11,588.

The robbery took place Tuesday noon in the Commercial Exchange bank at Kenosha. With revolvers leveled, the two bandits drove Lyman Williams, the cashier, and Robert McFadden, a teller, the only employees present at the time, into a back room. Then they scooped up all the currency in sight, $11,588, and vanished.

Neither Williams nor McFadden could identify Draves when the latter was arrested as a suspect. But this did not discourage the Kenosha police. They soon found two guns in Draves' car and more than $4,000 in cash in his home. Then Draves confessed, implicating Justeson.

6,000 Roumanian Recruits

Will Be Court-martialed

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Oct. 10.—According to the newspaper Universal, the second Roumanian army corps of 6,000 Roumanian recruits failed to report for duty. They will be court-martialed for mutiny.

CHICAGO LAWYER DENIES HE WROTE ORMISTON NOTE

Complete denial that he drew up the famous Kenneth Ormiston affidavit of exoneration for Almasa Sempie McPherson, evangelist, at the request by telephone of Mrs. McPherson, was made yesterday by Attorney Edward H. Martin, Chicago.

Disparages from Los Angeles, Cal., stated that District Attorney Asa Keyes, who is prosecuting the case, was in possession of information that Attorney Martin drew up the affidavit only after Mrs. McPherson had telephoned him from Los Angeles.

"The first time I entered this case," Mr. Martin said, "was when Mr. Ormiston came to my office, sat down to a typewriter, wrote out his story exonerating Mrs. McPherson of the charges that she had occupied a cottage with him at Carmel, Cal., and asked me to legalize the affidavit. "That is all I know of the case directly. I never received a telephone call from Mrs. McPherson and I most certainly did not make the affidavit at her request."

Ferryman to Testify.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Arthur Watta, a Colorado river ferryman, has identified Almasa Sempie McPherson, evangelist, as a woman who crossed the river from California into Arizona early last June, the district attorney's office announced today. He will be summoned next week as a witness at the hearing here of conspiracy charges against Mrs. McPherson.

The case against the evangelist includes a charge that she spent about 10 days in a cottage at Carmel, Cal., with Kenneth G. Ormiston, radio operator at Angelus temple. Mrs. McPherson contends she was kidnapped.

NEW VALUE - NEW BEAUTY

Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan $1385

F. O. B. Factory

IN the Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan, One-Profits facilities achieve a new victory over custom car costs—set a new standard of value in the moderately priced field.

Outside: a low-slung steel body, full-visions for extra safety, with the distinctive contour of a smart custom creation and a lustrous duotone-lacquered finish.

Inside: the custom richness of Chase mohair upholstery, exquisite broadcloth trim and Butler finish hardware in a pleasing harmony of tasteful color tones.

According to the power rating of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan is the most powerful car of its size and weight in the world. Its quiet L-head motor—the type pioneered by Studebaker and now adopted by over 70% of motor car makers—has a big, fully-machined, dynamically balanced crankshaft to reduce vibration to a minimum.

This is a feature shared by Studebaker with only a few of America's costliest cars. It costs Studebaker $600,000 extra every year to provide it. Only One-Profits manufacture makes it available in a car at this price.

Over $100 worth of extra equipment is included in Studebaker Custom Cars without extra cost. A new feature, found in no other car, is the Studebaker no-draft ventilating windshield, which admits plenty of fresh air and excludes moisture, even in the heaviest rains.

This is the car that invites comparison with cars costing two to five hundred dollars more. See it today.

Check these features against those of any other car selling at comparable price for price!

1. The quiet Studebaker L-head engine, officially rated the most powerful in any car of its size and weight.
2. No-draft ventilating windshield (exclusively Studebaker) insuring fresh air without drafts or moisture.
3. Disc wheels; four-wheel brakes; nickel-plated bumpers, front and rear.
4. Full-size balloon tires.
5. Wide, form-fitting seats, upholstered in fine Chase mohair with broadcloth trim.
6. Instrument panel in two-tone lacquer, with instruments grouped under glass and indirectly lighted.
7. Two-beam screen headlights, controlled from steering wheel.
8. Full-visions dual body, with wide doors and wide glass plane windows.

Other Equipment as follows:
Engine thermometer and hydro-bolic pressure gauge on dash; optional lock; oil filter and air purifier; automatic windshield cleaner; rear-view mirror; rear traffic signal light; spare tire carrier; and cow lights.

DR. BRIDGES SAYS FLAPPER IS PERIL TO CO-EDUCATION

Predicts Super-Victorian Era Is on Way.

To his conclusion that co-education is far too dangerous an experiment to be worth while, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Chicago Ethical society, added a prediction at yesterday's meeting of the organization that the rising generation, surfeited with freedom and relaxation of discipline, will, on attaining maturity, revert to a code of conduct surpassing the Victorian era for strictness and rigidity.

In his discussions of "The Morals of College Women," Dr. Bridges characterized as a "naïve impertinence" the attempt of any person or persons to make a reliable general comparison between the conduct of young people of today and that of their immediate forebears. He declared that an attempt to draw a parallel between the actions of today's co-ed and those of her grandmother would be an absurdity, since grandmother was not in college, nor were particulars of her conduct recorded and preserved as a basis for comparison.

Raps College Presidents.
Yet in view of articles from which he quoted, the first being the discussion of a recent college graduate concerning the conduct of the girls who shared a dormitory with her, and the second, the much discussed article of Wilfred O. Cross, Dr. Bridges "disclaimed as judicious the many vindictive and vicious aspersions of college presidents and faculties, that all this talk is baseless and untrue."

Dr. Bridges listed many causes of dissipation and moral breakdowns in modern life. He said the causes which he summed up in the changed conditions influencing the environment of modern youth, especially girls.

Cites Changing Conditions.
Conspicuous among these conditions, he declared, the revolutionized social status of women through their entrance into business and political life and the acquisition of the franchise; the movement for freedom and individuality, and the "fiasco of the attempt to enforce prohibition." Freedom of speech and of manner, absence of chaperons, and distractions resulting from the association of the sexes are sufficient reasons, in his opinion, for abolishing the co-educational form of higher education.

While "the collapse of dogma," he asserted, has left many of the younger generation without a basis for their code of morality, they are "absorbing in the class room hypotheses purported to be the science of psycho-analysis, a science which in the hands of the laity is merely the legitimization of indecency, and is a fashionable cult of recent years—a pretense to make obscenity good form."

RECOVER CAR AFTER ROBBERY.
Three armed men robbed David Brennan, a Chicago cab driver living at the Warner hotel, of $25 and his cab early yesterday morning at 1001 and Michigan avenue. The cab was recovered at 95th and State streets.

Crowds See Taxi Burst Into Flames in Loop

Crowds in the vicinity of State and Randolph streets were given a thrill last night when a Checker taxicab in which Attorney Jay J. McCarthy was riding to a show caught fire. An alarm was turned in and engine company No. 12 extinguished the flames. The driver, Harry Stufan, and his passenger leaped out of the vehicle.

Westclox

People who must be on time rely on Westclox

YOU know that being on time is important; you can depend on Westclox to help you do it; they're made for dependable people.

Take Sledp-Meter and Bluebird, for examples—or Jack O'Lantern and Black Bird, just like them except for the luminous dial that tells time in the dark.

Like all Westclox, they are precisely made. Each movement is repeatedly tested and carefully regulated before passing inspection.

Yet any Westclox costs much less than you are willing to pay for a good looking, trustworthy time-piece.

Look for them in the windows of the best stores. From America at $1.50, to Big Ben Luminous at $4.50, every single one is worthy of the Westclox name on the dial.

THE BANK'S PART in the Farmer's Trouble

IN 1917 an Iowa banker loaned his barber money to buy two farms. The barber had only $500 of his own. The bank put up the rest. Now the bank is closed.

But the conservative banker in Iowa is still doing business at the old stand.

THE farmers, merchants and business men who followed the advice of sound bankers, back in the days of war prosperity, are on top of their debts today. Those who sought easy credit for highly speculative ventures have suffered in the depression which always follows inflation. And those who gave easy credit are saddled with frozen paper.

It was easy to organize a bank in the boom days. The gross income from 200 acres of corn was enough to start a $20,000 savings bank in Iowa in 1919. Only 358 acres of wheat were needed to start a bank in Kansas; 476 acres of oats in Illinois; 377 hogs in Nebraska; 86 mules in Missouri.

The fair-weather banker rode the wave of easy prosperity without foreseeing the rocks of depression on which he now is being pounded. And he, with others, is seeking some way to saddle the losses, which he faces, upon someone else.

Meanwhile, the sound banker is still doing business at the old stand.

NATION'S BUSINESS for October tells the story of the facts back of the plight of the mid-western farmer.

You may not agree with the conclusions of the article, but with farm legislation certain to come up at the next session of Congress you will want to know the things set out in this study of the mid-west farm situation.

A high government official says every business man and banker in the entire middle-west ought to read this article—

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

TWO YEAR OLDS HOLD SPOTLIGHT AT AURORA OVAL

Many Chicagoans Building Up Stables.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 11.—About the only chance for the fall racing season here to find a spot in the sun while competing against Churchill Downs and Latonia in Kentucky and Fairmount Park near St. Louis is for the meeting to develop a star among the 2 year olds.

Close to 300 juvenile thoroughbreds, many of them owned by Chicagoans, are quartered here awaiting their final tests before winter ends the turf sport this side of the Mason and Dixon line. Because of bad track conditions they have been afforded few opportunities during the first week of the meeting.

Many Two Year Old Races. In an effort to give all of them a thorough trial before the curtain drops, Racing Superintendent Martin Nathan has caused the condition books to include many events for the youngsters during the next few days. They will have a chance on numerous occasions to meet up with older horses.

It has been many years since so many 2 year olds were owned by Chicagoans and while a few have shipped their charges either east or to Kentucky, many preferred to keep their horses in the Chicago district where it is handy to look them over when they all racing engagements. It indicates that Chicago still will be about as prominent on the different race courses next year as they ever were during the days of Washington park and Harlem and when Chicago running was the best in America.

More Horses to Arrive. The increased interest among local owners is attributed to the successful opening of the Lincoln Fields track and to the long Chicago season which is now drawing to a close.

There will be additions to the horse colony here early in the week. B. F. McClain being due tomorrow from Fairmount with 15 horses, J. M. Hubbard is coming from Kentucky with six, G. W. Fritz with four and two car loads are en route from Akron, Jockeys Terrat and Fendergast arrive today and will get into action tomorrow.

Good Will

Guaranteed

Good Will is Service Recognized

*Every
advertising page, like every editorial page in this magazine is guaranteed. What does that mean to the readers of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING? And to its advertisers?*

WOMEN believe in Good Housekeeping. They have read it.
They know they can trust it.

ONLY sound products, for which fair claims are made, can be shown in Good Housekeeping's pages.
And advertisers find that this policy pays them by increasing the effectiveness of all advertising in the magazine.

GOOD WILL is the natural result of such benefits. It is not merely a favorable attitude. It is the recognition of service already rendered, with a justified expectation of still further service.

GUARDIANS of GOOD WILL

Good Housekeeping's Good Will is the result of sound and steady growth.

It is indeed a most precious and valuable possession, and it is constantly, carefully guarded.

Among its protectors is Good Housekeeping Institute, founded to replace guess-work in the home by scientific knowledge of household devices and appliances.

Manufacturers of household equipment whose products have been Tested and Approved by Good Housekeeping Institute have the right to place the SEAL of APPROVAL on their goods.

The SEAL of APPROVAL is an infallible means of identifying goods that women can buy and use with confidence. A hall-mark and guaranty of Good Will.

THAT Good Will is maintained by unremitting watchfulness. Before any product can be advertised in Good Housekeeping it is investigated to make sure that it can be guaranteed by the magazine.

IN the case of foods, drugs, toilet preparations, household devices and appliances, special technical and practical tests are made by Good Housekeeping.

READERS can and do buy with confidence products advertised in Good Housekeeping. Advertisers are assured of meeting only fair competition in these pages.

THERE is, indeed, a close connection between these three things:
Good Products—Good Housekeeping—and Good Will.

BLACK BUTTERFLIES

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS

Dorinda Maxwell, the wealthiest woman in Grandon, brings upon herself the enmity of her friends by her association with the Black Butterflies, a club made up of social outcasts. Dorinda is worried by the rumors about herself and calls on Norma Davis, an old friend, to help her. Norma, who is a member of the Black Butterflies, tells Dorinda that her father, Judge Davis, objects to her friendship. She asks Dorinda why she doesn't marry and Dorinda tells her she is waiting for the right man. She says she is waiting for a man who is not only a gentleman but also a business man. She says she is waiting for a man who is not only a gentleman but also a business man. She says she is waiting for a man who is not only a gentleman but also a business man.

INSTALLMENT XX. NORMA'S DEFECTION.

Dorinda sat up, and her green-gray eyes narrowed as they moved from face to face. "What is this? Have we reached the point where I can't make a new acquaintance without apologizing and explaining and defending myself?"

"Jim shook his head at her. "It won't do, Dorinda," he said, gently. "You can't put us off that way. You know very well you can have all the acquaintances you want. But this outside looks serious. You appear to be falling in love with Goddard, and you're due for a frightful smash. Your parachute is giving out."

"All right. When I get it you can talk. Till then, please don't." "Dorinda!" For once the fun was serious. "You don't know anything about Goddard except that he's easy to look at. He's a self-centered, intolerant, narrow-minded, holier-than-thou prig, eaten up by ambition, and ready to do anything or anybody to get where he wants to be. If he marries you it will be for your money, for you and he haven't an idea in common and in the long run you will be his slave. I don't care if he is a millionaire. I'd give him less than a year to break your heart."

"Jim took up the argument where Chad had dropped it—that is, if we could make him human by injecting him with some healthy and redeeming virtues, there wouldn't be so much risk for you. But I don't flatter myself we can. He's well protected by his caustic armor of self-righteousness."

Dorinda addressed no one in particular. "Is that all?"

"Isn't it enough?" Kitty asked. "If it isn't, I'll discourse a while. Jim and Chad don't leave out much, but I can mention a few things they forgot."

"Listen, children," she went on. "I've let you talk, though when you've said it over you'll agree with me that you've been a little premature. Now I'll talk for the first, last and only time on this subject, so don't miss what I say. It's simply this: I never appointed you three my guardians or my advisers or my chaperones, or anything of that sort. And I don't want any opinions from you, at any time, about myself or my conduct or my other business."

She heard Chad's awed exclamation. "My God, we were right! She's in love with the fellow!"

"I suppose you meant well," she went on. "I thought you three were above that kind of thing, and I'm simply amazed that you're not. But please don't blunder now. Now, Kitty, if you will sit down and play for a long time, it may help to clear the atmosphere."

As Kitty drifted back to the piano, replacing a hairpin that had repudiated her, Chad picked up the thread of the conversation. "The opening movements of the 'Walden' sonata. . . But not necessarily tonight. Come on, Jim, make yourself comfy."

She solemnly raised his glass. "To the memory of a loved and lost Dorinda," he sighed. "Thereafter the two young men devoted themselves to the whisky in the manner of those who had seen their duty, had done it, and were now prepared to call it a day."

David Goddard's courtship of Dorinda Maxwell, by this time the pet topic of Grandon, was gratifyingly true to form. He motored with her, walked with her, took her out to luncheon, to dinner and to tea, and dined and lunched with her several times a week in her own home. The triumvirate adapted themselves to the new routine with a speed that did credit to their good sense. Now, Kitty, if you will sit down and play for a long time, it may help to clear the atmosphere."

GASOLINE ALLEY—NOW FOR A FRAMED MOTTO: THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Screen Literature is Rating Given Fine Film from Edna Ferber Story

"GIGOLO"
Produced by Cecil De Mille.
Directed by William H. Howard.
Presented at the State-Lake theater.
THE CAST:
Gideon Gory.....Rod La Rocque
Mary Hubbel.....Jobyna Ralston
Julia Gory.....Louise Dresser
Dr. Gerald Bladen.....Cyril Chadwick
Pa Hubbel.....George Nichols

By Mae Tinee.
Good morning!
Say it like this—jee-gow-low. The "jee" as in the command to ozen, the "go" as in a street signal and the "low" as in "Sweet and Low."
You think I'm trying to be funny, don't you? Well, maybe I am, but there's nothing funny about this picture which is human and splendid and gripping down to the last satisfying drop and which proves beyond doubt that Rod La Rocque is not only a skillful workman but an inspired one.

I don't know when I've been as sorry for anybody as I was for his Gideon Gory. Such a decent, honest kid for Fate to play cat and mouse with! So at the mercy of things he can't help and, worst of all, can't understand. Loving the fine and the clean and the simple things of life and finding himself chief actor in a gruesome play of many acts not the most terrible of which is the world war.

With a made over face that is a triumph of the plastic surgeon's art and, incidentally, of movie makeup—he becomes that human parasite on the face of Paris, a gigolo—a dancing man, who, for pay, becomes a dancing partner of any woman who is able to slip his price into his hand.

As sleek and oily and polished as his own greased hair.

If the picture is to hold you as it did me I must tell you any more of the story, which is Edna Ferber's, and which has had the finest sort of direction.

Louise Dresser is there as that pathetic creature, a mother who refuses to grow old gracefully—and you know what Miss Dresser can do with such a role! She does it. Cyril Chadwick as the man who marries that mother for her money, becoming stepfather of Gideon, gives one of his apt performances. Jobyna Ralston is there as the home town girl who never gives up hope. Small parts have been thoughtfully cast and get over in great shape.

All backgrounds and incidents are realistic.

"Gigolo" shines forth bravely for what it really is—a brilliant and honest bit of screen literature.

"LOVE'S BLINDNESS"

Hubert Culverwell, eighth earl of St. Austel.....Antonio Moreno
Alice, Duchess of Lincolnwood.....Lillian Tashman
Benjamin Leroy.....Sam De Grass
Charles Langley.....Douglas Gilmore
Marion of Lincolnwood.....Kate Price
Marquis of Lincolnwood.....Tom Nickles
Col. Ralph Danversfield Y. G.....Earl Metcalfe
Oscar Jackson.....George Wagner
Madame De Jalmon.....Rose Dione
Valde.....Ned Sparks

Great Cast Wasted on Elinor Glyn Book

Elinor Glyn wrote it and if Elinor would find a new plot?

This is her same whithered darling about the nobleman who needs money and marries without love a beautiful wife whom he soon is adoring madly. But he will not tell her so and she insists on keeping aloof and the film is full of boudoir scenes with closed doors. Loving the fine and the clean and the simple things of life and finding himself chief actor in a gruesome play of many acts not the most terrible of which is the world war.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune, 707 today's question Dick Arman, 6135 Rhodes avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.
Do you prefer to have your hair cut by a man in a barber shop or by a woman in a beauty parlor?

Miss Irene Jones, 6135 St. Lawrence avenue, home girl—I want a man barber. I never had a woman barber, and I wouldn't want one. I feel that men, with their experience, know their business better. I generally patronize a beauty shop on the south side. Out there they generally have a man in the beauty parlors.

Mrs. Lawrence M. Bell, 1734 East 1st place, housewife—I prefer to have my hair cut by a man in a barber shop. Men are more efficient. Another thing, they don't try to tell you how you should wear your hair, and they usually try to please. I go to a residence barber shop where there are more women customers than men.

Miss Doris Thompson, 4131 Barry avenue, East Chicago, Ind., art student—By a man. I hardly know all the why's, but it seems to me men are more capable than women for that kind of work. I feel that men have had more experience. Anyhow, I don't know that I particularly fancy a woman doing that work for me.

Miss Anne Wittenkamp, 1444 Berwyn avenue, art student—By a man, in a barber shop, absolutely. Men have a better knack at cutting things. Women are too flimsy with their fingers, and inclined sometimes to be so nice, then again not near nice enough. Men are more even tempered.

Miss Edith Myers, 15 East Delaware place, student—I like to have that done in a barber shop. I like to have men trim my hair. They usually have something funny to say. They cut jokes as they cut the hair. The salivens things that makes the time pass quickly.

Two Piano Recitals Comprise Sunday's Music Offerings

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Leo Podolsky, pianist, made his first Chicago appearance yesterday at the Studebaker. It will not be his last. It would not be his last even if the announcement of a later coming were discounted—for Mr. Podolsky would seem to be one of the few and rare personalities in music. He maintains a semblance of keeping on top of his music all the time and doing it with complete poise and assurance.

Even his powers of finger and brain were not enough to transform the Schumann "Davidsbündler" dances from their customary stodginess and inserted brightness in its place. Also he played one of Liszt's greatest pieces, the transcription of Bach's "Walden, Craning, Moaning, Sighing," with real dignity and unaffected passion.

Likewise he can play the works of Scriabin so that they sound like well-defined statements in tone and not like pronouncements of artifice. Altogether he gives the impression of being a person of keen brain with his feet on the ground, and one whose further musical acquaintance is much to be desired.

Next door to the Playhouse, a Leon Bloom, who used to be a Chicagoan but has been absent for some years, was giving another piano recital. He was heard in a group of some of the most popular pieces by Chopin which he played not altogether correctly to the final syllable, but with an accurate idea of what makes a performance of Chopin's pieces popular. As a result, he also was popular—this remark should not be considered in his dispraise, for he quite evidently knows what can be transmitted by the tone of the piano and he possesses the technical skill wherewith to transmit it.

Giorgio Polacco, musical director of the Chicago opera, arrived in Chicago from Italy yesterday morning, well rested after a vacation abroad, and full of energy for the labors of the coming season. He spoke enthusiastically of three features of the season: the revivals of Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," announced for the first week, and Mozart's "Don Giovanni," which will come later, also the first American performance of Honegger's "Judith," in which Mary Garden is to appear. The last named, he says, is uncommonly difficult and uncommonly interesting.

Notable Prelates of Episcopal Church to Meet in Milwaukee

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

A desire to emphasize the position of the Episcopal church regarding its catholic character and creed, its continuity of life from apostolic times, to deepen its interest in evangelism and in missions is declared the reason for holding the Anglo-Catholic congress in Milwaukee, which begins tomorrow evening.

The presiding bishop of the church and twenty-five other bishops, together with leading clergy and laymen, will attend. While it is not intended to determine the catholic character of the church.

"The Limits of Toleration with Respect to Dogma" is the subject of an address to be delivered by Dr. Frederick S. Fleming, rector of the Church of the Atonement, twice elected bishop of the church to decline the honor.

"There are some dogmas which have passed beyond debate," Dr. Fleming said yesterday in forecasting the congress. "Of these dogmas is the doctrine of the virgin birth of Christ. We cannot tolerate a denial of this doctrine which was settled by a council of the early church and has been proclaimed in centuries. We can have no toleration for so-called modernism."

On Wednesday morning pontifical high mass will be celebrated in All Saints' cathedral. There will be an outdoor procession in which the twenty-five or more bishops will participate. The congress will close Thursday evening.

Miss Smith Again Gives a Good Reason for Being

"TIP-TOES":

Play with songs and dances, in two acts, by Guy Bolton, Fred Thompson, Ira Gerbwin, and George Gershwin, made known in Chicago (by Arons & Freedley) October 10, 1926, in the Illinois Theater, with this cast:

Tip-Toes Kave.....Queenie Smith
Al Kave.....Andrew Tusch
Roe Kave.....Mary Watson (R.)
Steve Burton.....Richard Keene
Rollo Metcalf.....Hart Gardner
Sylvia Metcalf.....Mildred Keene
Denise.....Gertrude McDonald
Denise.....Dorothy Rushpuff

These memoranda on "Tip-Toes" are based not on last night's performance in the Illinois, but on one observed last Winter in New York, where the piece was at the time regarded as among the wows of the season. Certainly, its vogue and the price-scale were high. . . . I liked "Tip-Toes" then for what it was: (a) a conformance for the talents of Miss Smith, who remains my notion of what a good song-and-dance number should be, and (b) for George Gershwin's always interesting pursuit of the theory that jazz is a mode or method of musical composition, although in this as in all else that bears his name, the very cleverness in exposition which makes that name a good one in the arts proves again that jazz is not a mode or method of musical composition. He has two or three good tunes in the score; one of them, "Looking for a Boy," will be all over town within the week; but the appeal of his music, in this as in all else of his I have heard, lies in his statement of it rather than in any startling originality or freshness of melody.

This is a good score, as scores of the general sort go; and Mr. Gershwin makes it seem ten times better than it is by skilfully treating the orchestra as a mere supporting body for two pianos. These are played by Alan Moran and Walter Feldkamp; and I think they were the pianists in New York, where they (or, if not they, their predecessors) nightly disputed popularity with Miss Smith, Mr. Watson, and the other principals.

The "book" of "Tip-Toes" I recall as not much of a "book,"—resembling, therefore, most other "books" by Mr. Bolton,—although the verses by the other Mr. Gerbwin give it a certain sparkle. Miss Smith was a member of a cheap and luckless variety stage troupe who, as a social acquaintance at Palm Beach, at a certain time from going to the theatre, she had a very good idea of what a ragging commiser in a telephone booth, and that there was still so much time left that there were other specialties. I'm assuming that things are pretty much the same in this respect, and when the pressure of new plays I haven't seen lets up, I'll have a look into the Illinois.

Meanwhile, I know I'm safe in again commending Miss Smith to you, whether or not you saw her when she was here in 1925 in "Be Yourself!" She has a deal to give in dancing and with knowledge and grace; she knows what lines mean, and how to speak them; and I think she sings better than she did in the earlier piece. I think that Miss Smith, in the formal role I've seen him play since he was in the burlesque-shows, is funny in his own way, which is the way of a man biting right through temperance naïveté; and Mr.

San Francisco Observes Its 150th Anniversary

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 16.—(AP)—The 150th anniversary of the founding of San Francisco and the 49th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus were celebrated here today. The greatest interest was at Mission Dolores, which, with the Presidio, was the nucleus around which the city was built. Cardinal Hayes of New York, who came across the continent to attend San Francisco's four day anniversary celebration, participated in a pontifical mass which dedicated the new Mission Dolores church.

Government Club to Hear Constitution Authority

Harry F. Atwood, sponsor of study of the United States constitution, will address the first meeting of the Government club this evening at the Drake Hotel. The meeting will be held at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Atwood, who is president of the Constitution Authority, will discuss the constitution of the United States and its amendments. The Government club is a new organization which was started last week with more than 100 members.

Old Fashioned Meal Would Have Snares This Boy for Life

BY DORIS BLAKE

How about inviting them to a home cooked meal once in a while, girls? Have you tried that of a Sunday?

"The Muse," a college man of 23, indicates in his complaint about girls that what your world of romance needs is an occasional reversion to the old type of hospitality wherein a man's heart was warmed with a slice of the Sunday roast and a golden brown potato.

"Everything going out and nothing coming in," speaking in terms of entertainment, gets the young man's goat after a while. The Muse informs. That if you would believe the young college man, is why and where the boys get the idea they ought to get. In this fifty-fifty age the boys want something for their money. If you won't give them a meal once in a while, the code of the Muse and a number of his conferees apparently is to demand kisses. Not a chivalrous point of view, of course. But who, after all, is responsible for the lack of the romantic old quality in the male if not your modern girl?

I don't know but The Muse hit upon something, which he insists "ought to be food for thought for a large number of girls." You may not agree—but here's his story.

The Muse completed his sophomore year at one of the large middle west universities. He used to bat around with girls who were the "just for fun." He knew they didn't care two whoops for him, but so long as he spent his money they let him date them. Last spring he was visited a good sized legacy, the income from which is larger than some married men's salaries. With the legacy came to The Muse a responsibility toward life and he decided to part company with the gay type of girl and pal with nice girls exclusively.

Shortly before the semester ended, he met two thoroughly nice girls. He offered them cigarettes. They were refused. Thumbs went down when he suggested liquor for a dancing party. He was about ready to declare himself to Miss A. before returning to school. He decided to remain in the city and work during the summer. Though both girls knew he was eating where he happened to be when some time came around, he received but one invitation to a home cooked meal, and it was canceled the morning his appetite was sharply whetted for it. He hinted himself into another dinner invitation by suggesting he'd now be home, but that was likewise canceled. During the summer the girls accepted all his invitations to go out. At no time did either of them suggest an evening at home for cards, a party, or a walk.

"Either they were just plain thoughtless, or else gold diggers in a refined way," concludes The Muse. "And that's why I'm going to date the old crowd again. You get some kind of a break on the entertainment with the better."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

It's Unusual.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young bookkeeper. My boss is the type known as 'young, dark, and handsome.' I love him and I think he loves me, but he cannot confess his feelings because of the other girls in the office. Is it right for me to encourage his attention and accept his invitations?"

A LOVING BLONDE.

Mixing business and pleasure is one of the things we are warned against. It has worked out successfully in some cases, but it is not the rule. Such an employee feels favored and expects and takes too many privileges, creating a hostile feeling among the other employees.

No Need to Quarrel.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl friend is making a party, and the boy friend that I go with went steadily with her some time ago and broke off. Now he does not want to go to the party because it's at her house. If I go there without him it will cause a quarrel. What shall I do?"

WOMAN.

If he does not wish to accompany you and asks to be excused, he can offer no objection to your accepting the invitation, worried.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

A Phase of the Breakfast Problem.

Encouragement to write more or often on this breakfast problem came in the following letter, in which the testimony of the most welfare worker added special weight because he was coping with a definite situation.

"Your interesting article on peoples' breakfasts was doubly interesting to me because I have lately heard a good deal of comment on that very subject. While doing some dietetic research, I was talking to a number of employees in department stores and city offices. They agree that breakfast is a most important meal, because of the amount of work which is expected of every one during the early morning hours. They likewise agree that, due to kitchen cooking or the various diets, breakfast is being shamelessly neglected today.

"A man who has charge of a welfare department in one of our largest department stores said to me: 'We are faced with the diet problem from several angles: many girls are actually undernourished and cannot stand the physical strain of the morning's work; many employees leave the floor at ten or ten-thirty for a cup of coffee to sustain them until noon. That is undoubtedly due to their not having eaten enough breakfast. Naturally, we should like to remedy the situation. It means considerable inconvenience to us. Many girls get up too late to stop for food. They'd be a hundred percent more alive and better able to cope with the day's work if they ate some fresh fruit, a dish of oatmeal and milk, and some toast with butter. They would give them the energy they seem to lack until lunch time. But they are all afraid of getting fat, or they think they have no time, or some such silly excuse.'

"That man, from my point of view, has exceedingly sound judgment. And when my correspondent says that breakfasts are 'shamelessly neglected' she speaks with a maximum of truth. The further away 'I know of several who claim that morning is the time to eat a fairly substantial meal, because then the digestive organs are better equipped to perform their work after an all night rest. It is reasonable, isn't it?"

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

by Jane Eddington, with menus for thirty meals and with chapters making a brief guide to correct eating is on sale for 10 cents by mail or at the Public Service Office, 11 South Dearborn street.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

The straight line, with the deep "V" front, make this design especially suitable for stout figures. There are full sleeves finished with flared cuffs, and the inverted plaits in the skirt give fullness without detracting from the straight line.

The pattern, 2,673, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Blue 18 requires 3 1/2 yards of 46 inch material. The embroidery pattern, No. 718, comes in blue and yellow and costs 15 cents extra.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By IRENE CASTLE

Copyrighted 1924 by F. O. Beatty Pictures

The Folly

Of using just "any good soap" on your face

The kind beauty experts use themselves and how used

A SOAP may be good for any number of things, yet not be at all suited to the skin. The only kind of soap to use on your face is a soap made basically for that purpose. A good complexion is too precious for experiment.

Before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your face." All soaps then were judged too harsh.

Then came this famous beauty creation. A soap made by experts in beauty of rare cosmetic oils—and made solely for one purpose: to safeguard the complexion. A soap that changed the beauty methods of the world.

Leading skin authorities urge it. It has brought natural skin loveliness to more women than any other method known. In your own interest, use it according to the following rule for one week. Note the improvement your complexion shows:

Nature's rule to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion"

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, then with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge, if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Just do this and keep your skin soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance.

Good Best Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Dist. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois. (Advertisement)

This Coat Is Splendid for Shipboard or Train

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence).—One can pick no herringbone with Fashion when she offers you a herringbone tweed something as original as this for your autumn traveling or sports wrap. At first glance you are incredulous about this being a coat at all, for it is ingeniously staged to give all the effect of an ensemble. Yet the cape is attached unequivocally to the jacket and the jacket itself is in one with the skirt.

This kind of a wrap has all sorts of possibilities for the woman who is sailing this autumn. Not only will it make an ideal wrap for steamer wear but it will serve you in making your trips by train on the other side. Indeed, those who arrive in Paris during the season of cold, bitter rain may be grateful for its support when shivering in the French capital.

Another type of coat well adapted to the bleak dampness of northern Europe during the late autumn and winter months is the fur lined garment which is usually constructed on tubular lines. Both fur and herringbone are frequently used for the outside surface of these comfortable wraps, but one also encounters novelty woollens, kasha, and broadcloth. For immediate autumn sports wear there is indeed nothing more favored by the fashionable world than natural kasha.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunt Sue, The Tribune, Chicago.

Billy had brought little three year old Buddy to the party and he had no sooner gotten there than he cried to his mother. The mother got out some toys to amuse him, but he still cried. Then she tried telling him a story, but that did not work, so Billy said sadly, "I think if you get out the ice cream he will stay all night."

J. R.

Sonny, our little neighbor, likes our tiny niece. Last night as we drove up to the gate, he came running to meet us expecting to see Mary Nell. He looked so disappointed that I asked, "Who are you looking for, Sonny?"

Mournfully he answered, "I'm looking for who ain't here."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript return.

I was waiting for my train, and sat down on the edge of one of the benches. As I sat there a boy came up and sat down on the other side of the bench, he facing one way and I the other.

A train drove up, which was neither mine nor this boy's, and stopped to let some people out. A man standing on the train platform directly in front of us looked first at me and then at this boy, and yelled out loudly for every one around us to hear, "What's the matter? Have a fight! Come, now, kids and make up."

Everybody looked at us, and started to laugh. The boy looked at me and I looked at him, and both of us started to laugh. "I don't know which of us was more embarrassed," he said. D. H.

Woman's Club to Show Activities in Pageant

A pageant depicting the more human side of the civic activities of the Woman's City club, written and directed by Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, president of the organization, will be presented at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the first meeting of the season. In the cast will be several members of the club, including Judge Mary Barlowe of the juvenile court, Miss Harriet Vittum, Mrs. Mabel C. Raines, Miss Amelia Sears, Mrs. John D. McCune and Mrs. Edward L. Murfey. A reception in the newly decorated rooms of the club will follow the pageant.

Morgan Park Academy to Launch Fund Drive

Alumni of the Morgan park military academy will launch a drive for funds to build a memorial building on the campus at a dinner to be held at the Hamilton club Wednesday evening. Paul W. Pinkerton is chairman of the campaign committee. Horace Melium of Kenosha, Wis., is president of the Alumni association and will be toastmaster at the dinner. It is hoped that the building will be constructed next spring.
